weakens the ultimate like any other raw, or is it not that difficult? 2015-11-10 11:49 #11 how you evaluate it compared to savages and other tests (would be cool if you failed mechanic and hit 9,999x13 like FF7 XD). I think it's the hardest thing to adjust to Ramu and Lava/team work checks. But Lava and Lamu both did a DP's check, and this is not ? 2015-11-10 12:04 #12 will evaluate it compared to other trials with Savage how you can't do it until it was originally published by Katlan. I think it's the hardest thing to adjust to Ramu and Lava/team work checks. But Lava and Lamu both did a DP's check, and this is not ? I can't do it until later tonight and it's a little more solid mechanic than the actual dps and a real dps and a 3S (high dps make this fight much easier tho). 2015-11-10 12:07 #13 A3S is a stop gate for 97% of the player base, which is a pretty bold statement. But it sounds fun, as the Texans will be a fun challenge for most groups across the #14 tonight 2015-11-10 12:10 and expect to do it. Quite pumped when I got home, it would also be nice not to have to use a vidot for weapons on the Alts 2015-11-10 12:14 originally posted #15 Katlan considers the A3S a stop gate for 97% of the player base of a pretty bold statement. But it sounds funny, expecting to do it later tonight and even if one person dies a group swipe at that moment, there's also a mechanic who needs to set the rules for what you should do at some point to prevent death, it gets really hard as a weakness (still can be done with them). 2015-11-10 12:50 #16 If you die of group wipes at this moment originally published by Eludi, there is also a mechanism to set rules on what to do at some point to prevent death (still be with them). Do you care elaborate? 2015-11-10 12:59 #17 originally published by Elaborate Taint Care? It was originally posted by Eludi in the t10 mechanic who explained that if someone dies during the 2015-11-10 13:10 #18 the person who carried out the attack hit aoe room wide 90k + damage disbursing it and one person who explained that if someone dies during that, the person performing a room wide 90k + Ahh. Thanks. We are going to the platoon tonight instead of Alexander. My group is on the rocks so nothing helps to soften the run later! 2015-11-10 14:13 #19 originally published by Catalan how savage and other trials will be evaluated. I think it's the hardest thing to adjust to Ramu and Lava/team work checks. But Lava and Lamu both did a DP's check, and this is not ? Personally, the mechanics are very simple as you don't get to do it until later tonight. Turning your gaze? Simple. Standing in the tower? Simple. Avoid protruding land AoE's? Simple. But when you combine these dynamics, you'll find that the challenges are different in that you're learning to adjust the dynamics and prioritize them. The key to this encounter is knowing what you're processing and when it's being processed. AS3 does not offer the same challenge sequentially because most dynamics are not fatal (exceptions are Protean> Sluice). The challenge of AS3 is that these dynamics must meet dps/healing/tanking standards during the weeks of progress during AS3 difficult. I think this fight will not be a bottleneck because those DPS/healing/tanking tests are not strict. As long as you can continue typing in the instance and practicing dynamics, you can see progress. When introducing DPS/Healing/Tanking testing, a lot of preparation is done outside the raid and it's too tricky to do this type of homework (too busy with RL), for raid teams that aren't interesting or have a quick encounter (they don't know what to do). I think this is the real reason you see such a downturn in the barbarians and i think you probably won't witness that problem in this encounter.
